COUNCIL REFUSES

Appeal.*BOROUGH SOLICITORS AGAIN*Caustic Comment As To Their Actions, But Both of Them Are Present and Take Their Own Part.
Town Will Buy Some More Horses.

A desultory meeting of the Town Council, adjourned by the caustic comment of a few members a few minutes before adjournment was held last night, with all members present but these absentees: Duggan, Irwin, Thomas, Millard and Schenck. Reports were called for on the last subject but one on the calendar, sewers, and it had almost passed over without reference, when Councilman Girard called attention to the crying need of sewers on the South Side and asked that some attention be given them.

It was like pushing a thorn into a sore side and although President Stillwagon did not care to have any discussion about it he allowed the thing to come to a head and when it did arrive at that stage he slapped down a good hard sledge hammer blow and knocked the sewer proposition out of existence. Mr. Girard said that he felt that it money could be spent in beautifying the streets and expending money in other ways the "South Side" that is Davidson avenue, Sycamore, Patterson and other streets should be given sewers. His motion to have the Borough Engineer go over the South Side, make surveys and have the Borough Solicitors report on an ordinance at the next meeting was seconded by Ernest F. Kooser, but the chorus of noes that voted against the motion completely drowned it out. Councilman Girard asked that a standing vote be made on this matter and he was again repelled that "I don't think it is necessary and there will be no vote taken." Mr. Stillwagon said that if the South Side would put up the money the Council would probably build the sewers.

Following this little display of pyrotechnics which only consumed a few minutes a letter was read from S. B. Sicklesmith, former Postmaster of New Haven, who asked that the Borough purchase his postoffice equipment for $50 saying that it was well worth double the amount. Then followed another pointed and determined decision by the President. "I won't think that the Borough needs that equipment." The high and mighty Councilman of the Democratic side of the house acquiesced.

But the piece de resistance of the whole meeting was the purchase of a team to do street work. It is proposed by this team that the Council last night bought to cut down the street expense to almost nothing and keep the streets clean, sanitary, bright, sparkling and span all the time. The present rate of street cleaning runs up as high as $125 and $135 per month and the Street Committee complains that it has only the use of the team a slight portion of the month. They believe with a team always at their disposal that they can keep the streets as clean as those in Zion City, and that the tax payers will be making money, too. A couple of other horsemen in the Council argued that horse feed was pretty dear and that it might cost a whole heap of money to keep the horses, but they were certainly wrong shifted when they heard the vote to buy them which sounded like a yell at a baseball game when a home player makes a home run. After the heated discussion and the vote was taken, there was an effort to find out if anyone voted not to buy the horses but everyone looked like they had voted for it and there was only smiles left about the Council Chamber. Councilman Deas was seen to rub his leg, and Councilman Bill McCormick looked across at him with a self satisfied air. A junket trip to Australia to purchase the finest pair of horses is now in prospect. Firewagons are only a side issue on junket trips compared to buying the high steppers that will haul the garbage wagons that haul the filth off the Connelleville streets. Nothing was appropriated last night for a summer junket.

What the Council thinks of their Borough Solicitors was not publicly stated last night, but that some of the members would like to hand them out a good swift kick and get rid of them was plainly evident, while the learned members of the bar sat back behind the rail and smiled most of the time. In the first place the Council rebuffed the East Fayette street paving proposition and very testily questioned the solicitors' statement of accounts and costs. The account

Strikebreakers Go On a Strike;
Secure Discharge of Cooks at B. & O.

Strikebreakers go on a strike. Sounds funny, doesn't it? That's what happened down at the shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, where a number of strikebreakers are at work. The opponents to union labor buried their scruples concerning union long enough to go through the approved motions.

At the appointed hour the men walked out. Then they appointed a committee which waited upon Master Mechanic P. J. Harrigan. The demands of the strikebreaking strikers were formally presented.

These embraced the discharge of two cooks who were not holding their job in the proper manner, and the supplying of cleaner bedding in the camp cars. The striking strikebreakers declared the food they have been served was unfit for such use and very bad on the digestion. They also alleged that the sanitary condition of the camp cars were bad.

After hearing the demands Master Mechanic Harrigan is alleged to have taken the matter up and the result being the discharge of the two cooks and a cleaner supply of bedding.

BANK SUES TO GET ADVANCE MONEY*Simpson-Aubrey Lumber Company
Defendant in $2,000 Suit Entered Yesterday.

UNIONTOWN, July 21.—The Simpson-Aubrey Lumber Company is defendant in two actions in assumpsit entered yesterday by Attorneys Cotton & Cotton, representing the National Deposit Bank of Brownsville. The one action is brought to recover $2,005.00, claimed to be due the plaintiff as a balance on a certain promissory note dated Brownsville February 5, 1909, signed by the defendant company, and made payable in four months to the order of H. R. Craft. The latter endorsed the note and turned it over to the banking institution before maturity and for a valuable consideration. The second suit is likewise based on a promissory note, executed at Brownsville on February 24, 1909, and made payable to the order of the plaintiff bank. The amount involved in this instance is but $101.72.

The Simpson-Aubrey Lumber Company is a corporation, the members of which are John D. Simpson, of near Brownsville; Robert L. Aubrey, South Brownsville; Hayden R. Craft, Redstone township; John W. Wheeler, of Uniontown, and J. Harry Mills, of New Castle. Several years ago they bought a large tract of timber land near Elkins, West Virginia. The venture proved anything but profitable and the timber was finally sold a few months ago to the Smith Brothers Lumber Company, of West Virginia, who have set up mills and will develop the territory.

It is with a view to closing up the accounts of the company, at least so far as they apply to the West Virginia property, that the present actions were started.

ANOTHER LARGE
MORTGAGE FILED*Pittsburg Coal Company Executes
One For $83,000 in Favor of Milford Coal Company.

SOMERSET, Pa., July 20.—A mortgage the face of which is $83,000 has been entered in the office of Recorder N. E. Burkey. The Pittsburg Coal Company gave this mortgage to the Milford Coal Company as security for a debt, and about 1,000 acres of valuable property together with the mining rights, machinery, tipples and all the holdings of the company are covered by it.

The Cumberland Basin Coal Company has executed a second mortgage to the Continental Trust Company of Baltimore, the face of the instrument being $17,500. The mortgage covers 50 pages of typewritten paper. The money obtained by means of this second mortgage will be used to pay the interest on a bond issue under an earlier mortgage given some time ago. This mortgage covers all the real estate of the coal company in Somerset county as well as in Allegheny county, Md., together with the buildings, mining machinery, tipples and all other property.

The Milford Coal Company has executed a deed to the Pittsburg & Cambria Coal Company by which about 100 acres of coal property is conveyed. The consideration was $5. Howard C. Cook of Johnstown has purchased about 1,200 acres of valuable timber property in Addison township from D. S. and W. G. Butterbaugh and C. J. Duncan of Windber, paying about $20,000 for the same. The land was formerly owned by the Duncan Lumber Company. A quantity of lumbering machinery is included.

No Court Until Monday.
Court adjourned yesterday to meet next Monday at 10 o'clock when Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen expects to sit in the case of the Naomi Coal Company against Elizabeth Moore. There will be no court in Common Pleas this week, following yesterday's work, when a great deal of matter, civil and criminal was disposed of.

No Police Court.
There was no police court this morning, no prisoners being in for a hearing.

United Press Telegram.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Emaciated and weak, almost to the point of helplessness, eight men and Captain Burke of the schooner Charles Hanson, were brought in today on the Pacific Mail Steamer Newport, with a tale of terrible sufferings during ten days without food on a desert island off the coast of Mexico.

There were nine men besides Captain Burke of the Hanson when it left the Golden Gate, but Harry Norderick was buried after he starved to death on the island. The Hanson caught fire when two weeks out of Frisco. The cargo was dynamite. The fire, originating in the galley amidships, worked over the whole ship. The crew dashed for life boats, not stopping for oars, food, water or clothing. It had not gone far when the schooner was blown to bits.

Without food or drink, the men drifted 12 hours until finally the current carried them to the island of Cleophas. Here the shipwrecked sailors were unable to find an article of food.

Three days after they landed Captain Burke discovered a bed of shell fish and on these the men lived for ten days. Men attracted the Newport by signal.

GIRL ATTACKED.
Found Unconscious Bessie McIntyre
Tells of Assault by Foreigners.

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 21.—Lying unconscious across the stone wall of a bridge on the National pike west of Washington, Bessie McIntyre, daughter of Hiram McIntyre of Washington, was found this afternoon by T. C. Babout, an undertaker, as he was returning from a funeral. The girl was taken to her home where she revived.

She said she was sitting on the bridge when she was attacked by two Italians, who struck her on the head. There is no clue to her supposed assailants.

Way Here to Answer.

UNIONTOWN, July 21.—Aaron Rodney, who was arrested yesterday, charged with arson and suspected of having caused the conflagration at Masontown, was released on $5,000 bail this morning, Jacob Davis going on his bond.

The evidence, it is said, is not strong against either Rodney or Louis Miller, the proprietor, who is on his way to Uniontown from Pittsburgh to give himself up and answer the information made against him. Rodney was released upon a habeas corpus hearing instituted before Judge Van Swearingen by Attorney H. D. Leonard.

The theory now is that the fire was not of incendiary origin but started in the restaurant. There is only a four-inch partition between the restaurant and the store, and it is believed the fire might have originated back of the stove and burned through. There is no evidence against Miller. He retired at the Hotel Leroy at 10 o'clock Monday night and did not awake until after the fire had been discovered. Upon retiring he left the key to his store in the office for Rodney, who was to have opened up in the morning.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY FALL FROM FREIGHT*Samuel Harvey of Somerset Meets
With Fatal Accident While Train Riding.

SOMERSET, Pa., July 19.—Samuel Harvey was instantly killed near Little by falling between two cars of a freight train on which he was riding from Jerome to Little to visit his family.

Harvey was employed in the Jerome mines of the Quemahoning Coal Company as a car inspector. His wife and three children lived at Little and he was accustomed to ride on freight trains while going to and from his work. No one knows just now the accident occurred but it is supposed that a sudden jar caused him to lose his footing. His body was frightfully mangled, being cut into five pieces.

Harvey was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harvey of Lancaster, Pa. He was about 30 years old, was married and had three children. His father arrived in Somerset on Monday and the remains will be taken to Lancaster for interment.

Quarer Find in Coal Mine.
CHARLESTON, Pa., July 21.—What is believed to be the petrified bust of a human being was found at a depth of 75 feet below the surface and two miles beyond the entrance of the Apollo mine. It is now in the possession of Edward Steinhorn of Fayette City. The bust was dug from a vein of coal.

Jealous Husband's Crime.

Killed By Train.
Francis M. Purdue, aged 45, was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio train near Hyndman yesterday and almost instantly killed. He leaves a wife and several children. Purdue formerly lived here.

Cows Ate Potatoes But Left Corn Crop Alone; Costs Divided.

Justice of the Peace Frank Miller had a cow case to settle yesterday, the parties at issue hailing from Swagertown. Alex Pruski's two cows were alleged to have miled Steve Haryd's garden. Steve's witnesses alleged that Pruski's two children tried to drive the cows in the garden and then Mrs. Pruski came to their aid.

When the evidence developed that the cows ate the potato tops but left the corn alone, Squire Miller became suspicious. Being a student of nature, he figured this was a strange proceeding. The matter was settled by the costs of prosecution being divided.

UNIONTOWN, July 21.—The County Commissioners this morning paid the first bill of the State for the construction of State roads within the county. This work was taken up in 1904. The first bill, that was settled by the Commissioners, was for $17,755.79, or one-eighth of the total cost of construction. The townships benefited are also assessed an eighth, the State paying the balance.

The townships share of the present bills is as follows:

Dunbar	$1,000.00
Lewistown	1,191.21
McMurry	1,235.98
South Union	1,245.43
South Union	1,091.41

TO HANDLE BIG CROWD TOMORROW.*Everything Is In Readiness for Annual Outing of the Merchants.*FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE*Three Sections Will Be Run Over
Baltimore & Ohio to Olympia Park
Tomorrow Morning—Charge Ladies
To Dance This Year—Free Coffee.

Final details were arranged this morning for the annual outing of the Connelleville Merchants' Association to Olympia park tomorrow. Everything is now in readiness for the big train to carry their load of human freight to the one big summer resort of Western Pennsylvania.

Quite a few details were cleared up at the meeting of the Executive Committee meeting this morning. A man employed to boil the free coffee and four big wash boilers will be purchased to cook the beverage in. There will be from 100 to 200 tin cups on the scene, too, for those who forget to pack these necessities in their baskets.

A new departure this year is the fact that ladies will be charged to dance. In the past this attraction has been free to the members of the fairer sex. The arguments advanced for this charge are that the women who are admitted free, congregate along the balcony and interfere with the dancers. One of the members of the committee also said that while the women are sheltered in the dancing pavilion the other concessions are losing money. As a consequence it will cost the women 25 cents to get in the dance hall, whether they want to dance or merely drop in to look around.

It was decided to have the piano drawing at 10 o'clock instead of 11. This event will come off immediately after the people from the last section get in the park.

It is estimated that between 500 and 600 people will attend the picnic from Dunbar. The West Penn is running a special car out of Uniontown, leaving at 5:40, to carry any people from that end of the county who care to go on the picnic.

Scottdale and Mt. Pleasant have other interests this year and will not turn out in large numbers to attend the picnic. It is believed, however, the attendance this year will compare favorably with former outings.

WILL TEST OPTICIAN

Alleged That Doctor Does Not Have a Regular Certificate and Is Held.

SOMERSET, July 21.—"Dr." J. A. Thorn, who widely advertised himself as an eye specialist and has been in Somerset periodically during the past two or three years, was arrested and given a hearing yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock before Justice of the Peace Joseph H. Pisel, on a charge of practicing medicine without a certificate of qualification.

The prosecution was represented by District Attorney John S. Miller, and it was alleged that in treating the eye "Dr." Thorn prescribed medicine with specified directions, although he is not a registered physician. "Dr." Thorn was represented by Attorney L. C. Colborn and contended that while he was not an oculist or registered physician, he is an optician and had merely given his clients proprietary medicines, long known to the medical profession, as well as the public, which any one can purchase at any drug store.

The "Doctors" was held under $100 bail for court and an interesting trial is anticipated.

Card Party and Dance

A color scheme of yellow and white was handsomely carried out at a very charming card party and dance given last evening by Miss Cynthia Solason, at her pretty home on West Peach street, in honor of her house guest, Miss Marcelle Keller of Pittsburgh. The affair was one of the most enjoyable social functions held here for some time. Over 50 guests including members of the younger social set were present. The spacious ballroom on the third floor where the card tables were arranged presented a scene of great beauty with its pretty decorations. Profusions of Japanese lanterns were used in illuminating white yellow and white daisies and mountain laurel were lavishly used throughout all the apartments. Music was furnished throughout the evening by Kiferle's orchestra. Ten tables were called into play for five hundred, the game played. The tully cards were handsome daisy shaped affairs bearing the monograms of the hostess and her house guest. The number of games won at each table were kept account of by artificial daisies awarded at the close of each game. The ladies' head prize a sterling silver picture frame, was won by Miss Emma Kate Dull, the second prize a handsome fur, by Miss Keller and the third prize, a hand painted recipe book, by Miss Marie Benford. The gentlemen's head prize a combination set was won by Clifford Edwards, the second prize, a silver match case by Robert White and the third prize, a book by William Brickman. At 11 o'clock cards were laid aside to partake of a prettily arranged luncheon. Dancing was indulged in until after midnight. The out-of-town guests present were Miss Edna Byrne, Mrs. Kennedy, Kiefer, and Bryne of Scottsdale, Miss Margaret McHugh and Messrs. McHugh and Buchanan of Uniontown, and Miss Alma Finch of Pensacola, Fla.

J. O. C. Society Entertained

A very enjoyable social event of last evening was the monthly meeting of the J. O. C. Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held at the home of Carroll Boyd on the Narrows. The members of the society and their guests were conveyed to their destination in a large bus wagon. The evening was spent in various games until a late hour when a delicious repast was served. The meeting was one of the best held for some time.

Kings Daughters Meet

The Countess Spottiswood Mackenzie who was Sarah Britton a St. Louis belle is again reported engaged. This time the story comes from Rome, where it is said the Countess, who will become the bride of the Duke of Delmonico Marigliano. Sallie's father's father was James Britton, once Mayor of St. Louis. She was married to James S. Mackenzie, a New York State Senator, and upon his death went abroad where she has spent much of her time since. She was ennobled by Pope Leo XIII for her charities in the Roman Catholic Church and became a well known figure in Paris, London and Rome. Her book, A Society Woman on Two Continents, attracted attention.

FILTHY MOUTHED TRAINMEN SPOTTED

Officers Will Break Up the Use of Obscene Language to Boating Parties on the River

Complaints made by those who take outings on the Monongahela river at Fairmont against certain trainmen of the B. & O. have caused orders to be issued instructing local officers to look out for and arrest, if possible the offenders. On several occasions recently it is said employees of the railroad company, while passing boats filled with ladies have used obscene and ungentlemanly language. This practice it is said has become so prevalent that many who enjoy rides on the stream have remained away from the spot. The proprietors of the local boat houses are severe in their condemnation of the practice and they have joined their patrons in asking the officers to break it up.

County and city officials will it is said attempt to catch some of the culprits and make an example of them. Officers in plain clothes will be stationed along the river and the number of the engine and train that bears one of these alleged blasphemous crews will be taken. High officials of the company promise to give the names of the men on the run.

The practice is said is not general but is confined to certain crews whose work takes them along the banks of the river. Others are entirely innocent of the charge and the complaints made do not tend to implicate them.

FAMILY CURED OF SKIN TROUBLES

Two Little Girls had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her but it did not give in until warm weather when it seemingly subsided. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with him for several weeks and the child grew worse all of the time. Her sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills and the eczema gradually disappeared. My husband's eczema was cured and when a little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedies. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me. Sept. 21, 1908."

LUXURIANT HAIR.

Women With Plain Faces Should Study the Hair.

Any woman can have beautiful and luxuriant hair by using Parisian Sage, the most efficient hair tonic and dandruff cure.

Parisian Sage is the favorite hair dressing of refined people, and since its introduction into America it has met with wonderful success.

If you want beautiful lustrous hair, that will be the envy of your friends, go to the drug store of A. A. Clarke and get a bottle of Parisian Sage today and use it for a week.

If at the end of a week you are not satisfied that Parisian Sage is the most delightful and refreshing hair invigorator you ever used, take it back and get your money.

Parisian Sage now has an immense sale all over America because it is guaranteed to stop itching hair, itching scalp and splitting hair, or money back.

It is without question of a doubt the only preparation that penetrates into the hair bulbs and kills the dandruff germs in a week.

Parisian Sage will not grow half-bald heads, but it will prevent baldness by strengthening and nourishing the hair roots.

Fifty cents the largest bottles for the money and the best tonic for the money, and bear in mind the girl with Auburn hair is on every package.

It is the real tonic for children's hair because it strengthens the hair root.

Loading druggists in every town sell Parisian Sage.

The Census District.

Pennsylvania will have 23 supervisors' districts for the coming census. This is one of the States where the Congressional districts and the Census districts do not agree in number.

FELDSTEIN'S FELDSTEIN'S

Sale of Linen Suits

What Kind Are They?

Why they are Feldstein's. It is indeed remarkable how much magic there is, at times, contained in one single word.

"Feldstein's" is a word which when applied to ladies' suits, tells more than ever so many columns of detailed descriptions could convey, in fact, in Connelldale, Feldstein's is but another name for Fashion. Of course, our linen suits have done their share in securing us this most enviable reputation. And it is just these stylish, highly fashionable linen garmnets that we are now closing out at such enormous reductions.

They are this season's goods—and since next season's styles are in every way identical to this season's (an inspection of our new fall line will show this) you have now the rare and excellent opportunity to acquire for a small sum your next summer's suit. We know that we ought not to sacrifice so much on these suits, however, the need of room for our new fall arrivals and our unbreakable and inflexible rule, not to carry over anything under any circumstances, have combined in dictating such unusual reductions as we are offering below.

TUB SUITS.

Tub Suits of imported pure linen crash, in white or natural linen; light, cool and extremely serviceable; jackets are semi-fitted and are from 38 to 42 inches long. In this line you will find four different models, skirts are eleven gore flared and full width. THE FINAL STAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL.

The tariff bill is in its final stage of formation, and out of the Third House will come the real tariff. The Third House is a rather exclusive affair. Its debates are not printed. It is a body of action rather than of oratory.

It is composed of representatives from the Senate and the House and is known as the Joint Committee on the Conference Committee. The President has grown to be a silent member of this committee, particularly on occasions like the present when a weighty question is under consideration. The reconciliation of the differences between the houses is extended to the Executive, and the final passage and approval of the tariff bill is thus assured.

The tariff bill began in the large and unwieldy, but in this case perfectly controlled House, it passed into the smaller and more deliberative, but also more talkative body known as the Senate; whence, after being nearly debated to death, it went to the Conference Committee. The House bill lowered a number of duties; the Senate bill increased some and eliminated others. The conference will deal, not only with the differences between the two houses, but also with the desires of the President. The result will be a practically new bill from the Third House.

The tariff question is therefore not yet settled, but it will be at an early date. The Third House does not talk to the galleries. The members talk to each other, and they usually talk to the point. The conference report will soon be ready and in all probability it will be final.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the conference report will probably include free oil and free ore. Free oil is against Pennsylvania interests, but free ore is not. Though as a whole perhaps free oil is more important to the State at large, free ore is more important to this immediate section. We will therefore hope that out of the long-drawn-out dispute there will be something satisfactory to the Connelville coke region.

If there is not, it will not be the fault of the Pennsylvania Senators, who are the bosses or leaders, have certainly been faithful and efficient who, by their bosses or leaders, have representatives.

SOME WORTHY ACTS AND SINFUL OMISSIONS.

The Town Council committed some serious sins of omission last night, but it also has some acts of virtue to its credit. It persisted in its refusal to heed the Macedonian cry from the sewerless portion of the South Side, and it ignored the just demand of Greenwood for fire protection; but it promised to keep the streets clean, and it ordered that bad sidewalks and cellar doors be forthwith put in proper repair.

The dominating spirits of the Town Council have betrayed a determined purpose to take care of the interests of the central portion of the borough and ignore those of the outlying districts, particularly the districts which have recently been annexed. This is not only ungenerous, but it is actually unjust. The people who joined their fortunes to ours in the good work of making a Greater Connelville are entitled to better consideration; and we make the prediction that they will get it at the hands of the next Town Council, which will come from the people and be equitably distributed, and which will not, we further predict, be dominated by the old Democratic influences. Those influences probably anticipate a brief authority and for that reason are anxious to serve their individual interests now while they have the opportunity. It will also be remembered that they were not very earnestly for expansion, and perhaps they do not feel that they are under obligation to take care of any of the new portions of the borough.

The demand that all sidewalks be put in good condition is a real attempt at reform, and it should extend further than a mere expression of Councilmanic policy. The lack of proper sidewalks is one of the principal things that is holding up free delivery in the hill district of the West Side. Aside from that particular instance, however, it is plain that justice and common sense demand that if sidewalks are required to be laid by the property-owners they should be of a uniformly excellent character. It is not fair to the citizen who lays a good and substantial sidewalk that his neighbor should be permitted to lay and maintain a cinder path, a boardwalk or a spotty brick pavement, which is an icy danger in winter and a mud-splashing nuisance in other seasons. The Town Council would perhaps do well to prescribe the character of the sidewalks to be laid on the different streets, by ordinance if necessary, and then compel the observance of the ordinance.

Cellar doors that are dangerous or obstructive to the sidewalk, or any other construction or obstruction on the sidewalks, or any appropriation thereof to private use, should be strictly forbidden.

Henry C. Frick, Map-Maker.

A modern and centrally located railway station is promised to Pittsburgh by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the location was made possible at this time by the foresight of Henry C. Frick, who acquired the old Cathedral property some years ago and held it apparently for this purpose.

When Pittsburgh has constructed her subway to the East End, as she soon must do, the union station or its vicinity will be the natural terminal.

With the coming of the new station, Pittsburgh is promised the going of its unsightly and inconvenient dump, and a new business center will be created for the Smoky City.

It begins to look as if Henry C. Frick was about to change the map of Pittsburgh, sufficiently at least to make the Frick building the center of the town.

The Lottery Ticket says its circulation has been the largest of several times recently, but that it "isn't blowing about it." Neither will we say that it is lying about it, because the term is impolite, but we fear that it is not wholly disingenuous. The Courier, for example, might report a fifth-water circulation of 18,000. If it pursued the policy of making free distribution of two-thirds of its editions, it might advertise to estimate the value of newspaper publicity by the average circulation throughout the year.

The Coke Mergers isn't abandoned; it's just being boiled down a bit.

The Borough Solicitors seem to be in a divorce at the municipal court, chiefly because they have the Town Council honest, but unpalatable advice.

After all that law authorizing the election of Borough Solicitors for a term of two years was without its advantage to the public.

Old Grimes is dead, but Billy Grimes is worth a dozen dead ones.

Love of country is patriotic, love of woman is tender, love of a child is reverent; yet the first may be selfishness, the second passion and the last hypocrisy. After all the love that abides and is most loyal is the love of the good mother for her children.

Harmony has fled from the Council of Connelville.

Jack Frost is the Hot Shot of Company D.

The police force of Connelville is under military inspection. This is one of the modern regulations which will be universally commended.

The value of hotel property depends largely upon the license attachments.

If the new municipal team keeps the streets clean the citizens will vote it a good investment.

The business world anticipates a prosperity wave next year. It can't roll in too soon or too high.

Perhaps one of the most remarkable propositions recently put up to the Town Council was that of the elimination of the postmaster of late New Haven, who asked that he be bought by his postoffice equipment now that he is submerged in the municipal merger. The borough is not in the postal business, neither is it running a second-hand junk shop.

Conservation and standardization seem to be the waterways watchwords now.

The murmuring Ohio sings sadly, "How Dry I Am!"

The Councilmanic Steam Roller runs like an automobile.

New York is nothing if not original. Subpoenas are served with a brick attached. This is the first mention of a judicial aeroplane.

Anna Gould is raising a large crop of dukes and princes. They will be a valuable investment for her declining years. She can sell 'em off to aspiring American matrons.

The drums want a raise, but they haven't threatened to strike yet.

Evelyn Thaw is suspected of being somewhat of a stage witness.

The solo survivor of the Marianna mine accident is said to be a spontaneous proprietor. He probably thinks he has a license to do anything.

The Town Council is thought by some good citizens to be too large; but there is at least one virtue about its size. The old game of breaking a quorum is played out.

Judge Umbel intimates that those Connelville citizens who bought during the primary campaign were better than two-fords. That settles it. They couldn't have been campaign clergies.

The tax question will be determined soon, too soon, perhaps, for some people.

The Bird—Darn those air joy riders! It is certainly dangerous for a fellow to venture out.

COURT ROUTINE.

Minor Matters Disposed of at the Regular Weekly Session.

UNIONTOWN, July 21.—In the matter of a public road in Franklin township, it was ordered that objections Nos. 2 and 7 to the report of viewers be sustained, with the proceedings quashed and the petition dismissed at cost of petitioners. There were 18 exceptions filed in the matter, one sustained being that the petitioners did not file bond with petition, as should be done before viewers are appointed, the subsequent proceeding being void. The other exceptions say that the viewers' report recites that the proposed road passes over Colonial Coke Company property only, and that the viewers had failed in an attempt to receive its release; whereas the Pittsburgh Coal Company is the owner and was when the view was made.

A subpoena in divorce was issued Tuesday in the case of Sandra Gyary against Lydia Gyary.

In the case of Margaret Aldridge against B. & O. Railroad Company a new trial was asked by the defendant, who alleges that the court should have given binding instructions for the defendant and that it erred in doing so for the plaintiff. McDonald & Cray are the Baltimore & Ohio attorneys.

In the case of John S. Patterson against Sarah E. Houseman an order has been made directing judgment to be entered for the plaintiff for the premises described in the writ. She failed to file in her statement certain abstracts necessary.

Ridge Brothers have filed their defense in the suit of William Ritenour. The sum of $250.00 is involved. This is a dispute over material in a contract for the erection of a barn and other buildings and a road near Vandorblit. The contract as set forth by the plaintiff, together with the defendant, is denied.

REASONABLE BARGAINS.

Bargain season now and we ask you to judge of the bargains we have here to offer you. Goods that you are needing now but we want to sell them. Want all the room possible for the new fall goods that will soon be here. Want to get rid of these summer goods and have made prices that should be an inducement to you to buy now. Ask you to be the judge of these bargains and decide for yourself whether or not they are reasonable bargains. Worth buying because of the quality as well as the price.

Wash Goods 10c the Yard.

Lawns and dimities and batistes that sold for 15c the yard go on the 10c counter this week. As pretty an assortment of materials and patterns and colorings as ever we had to show at this time of the year.

Muslin Gowns at $1.

A table of these gowns out to show this week. Worth at least a half more. Made of best quality muslin. Neatly trimmed with embroidery. Full and wide, not skimped in any way, altogether the best gown bargain we have had to show for some time.

White Skirts at $1.

Made of best quality muslin, good and wide dust ruffle of cambric and trimmed with three rows of bucking and hemstitched ruffle at the bottom. On the dollar bargain table and enough for all week's selling.

The 50c Bargain Table.

Children's dresses, ladies and misses' gowns, corset covers and ladies drawers. Some of all these on the 50c table this week and at this price quality considered we don't believe you'll find better values anywhere. Care not where you go.

Children's White Dresses at Half Price.

Some of these in the windows last week, others slightly mused in showing and for these reasons we have offered them at just half of the original prices. Sizes 2 to 5 years, and prices were from $2 to $5.

White Waists at $1.

Another lot of these white waists on the table this week at this price. Every size from 34 to 43 and every waist worth from one half more to twice this price of $1.00.

Children's Colored Dresses at 1/3 Off.

Sizes 4 to 10 years. Dresses that sold for from $2 to $8 and $8. All these reduced 2/3 in price. You'll find these shown on a table in the cloak room and we call special attention to the materials and styles shown.

Suits at Bargain Prices.

Still a few suits left that we want to get rid of. Maybe your size is here in color and material that you'd like. If it is you can buy it for a price that you'll consider more than reasonable. You will be surprised at what $10 to $15 will buy in this suit department just now. A whole lot more for your money than you'd expect. Come and see if this is not the case. But don't put off the coming too long.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE.

Mrs. Maria Kirk Lockard Passes Away at the Age of 74.

EXCITING RUNOFF NEAR CHURCH

Robert Shiveley's Horse Made a Scattering of People—A Typhoid Fever
Patient Removed to the Hospital.
Other News.

SCOTSDALE, July 21.—Robert Shiveley, son of John L. Shiveley of near town, figured in an exciting runaway when his horse took fright and dashed up the road from the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church toward the Catholic Cemetery, and tore loose from the buggy to which it was attached Sunday evening. The young man managed to hold fast to the lines when the horse broke loose and with others' help stopped the wild career of the fine, big horse. The services at the church had just dismissed and a big crowd of men, women and children had started home, so there were some narrow escapes from being run down. The people crowded over into the ditch and climbed fences as they scattered out of the way of the horse. The animal was not injured by his dash and the young man escaped with some scratches and bruises.

Mrs. Lockard is dead. Mrs. Maria Kirk Lockard, died after a protracted illness at her home on Chestnut street yesterday, aged 74 years. She was born at Rising Sun, Maryland, and had long been a resident of Scottdale, where her husband, William F. Lockard, died 16 years ago. The deceased is survived by the following children: Rev. William S. Lockard, a Methodist Episcopal minister in Pittsburgh; George H. Lockard, a well known mill man; Mrs. J. N. Wooster and Miss Elizabeth Lockard of Scottdale. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30, the interment being private.

Taken to the Hospital. Mrs. George Findley of Grant avenue was taken to the Mt. Pleasant hospital today suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. There are a number of other cases in town and the physicians are advising everyone to take the utmost care to prevent the further spread of the disease.

Visiting Old Time Friends. Harry Wonders, who used to live on Market street, was here yesterday, visiting his boyhood friend and neighbor, Dr. James P. Strickler, and other old time friends. Mr. Wonders left Scottdale about 15 years ago, and is now a resident of Coraopolis and is employed as a locomotive engineer. He notices many changes and improvements in Scottdale since he lived here.

Methodist Episcopal Picnic. The annual Sunday school picnic of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school is scheduled for Shady Grove park on Thursday, July 29, when several carloads of the church people will go over the West Penn Railway to the popular resort to spend the day. These picnics are always well attended and a large amount of provision provided for the pleasure of all.

Swedish Church Remodeled. The Swedish Mission people of North Scottdale have started work on remodeling their church building there, and as the improvements will be extensive, they have secured permission to hold their Sunday meetings in the school house for some time.

Two Special Trains. There will be two special trains run over the Pennsylvania railroad from here to accommodate the crowd that is going to the I. O. O. F. picnic at Idlewild on Thursday. Agent C. M. McCracken is handling a large excursion business at Idlewild this season and a good number of tickets have already been sold for the outing, which promises to be well patronized.

Firemen Held a Meeting. The Scottdale Volunteer Fire Department held a meeting in their room in the Borough building last evening, with a large attendance. Several new members joining and several old ones being reinstated were features of the session.

Proprietary Medicines Prescribed by Doctors. Examination of the formulary of departments of leading drug stores throughout the country has proved that a very large percentage of the prescriptions filled for doctors are for proprietary medicines.

This is because the average doctor of today is unable to distinguish prescriptions equally as efficacious. Such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound are prescribed over and over again by fair-minded physicians throughout the country.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Velpkey and family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to all those who so kindly assisted them during their recent bereavement caused by the death of their infant son, Alfred Lewis; especially to Rev. B. F. White and also to the choir of the United Presbyterian Church.

FRENCH CABINET FALLS.

Premier Clemenceau and His Ministers Resign.

Paris, July 21.—The Clemenceau cabinet fell suddenly last night under dramatic circumstances at the conclusion of a violent debate over the naval scandals, extending over several days.

M. Delcasse, chairman of the investigating commission, led the attack upon the naval administration. Premier Clemenceau, who always has been an adversary of M. Delcasse, smarting under the criticisms, and doubtless over-confident of a majority, taunted the ex-minister of foreign affairs, who was thrown overboard by the Rouvier ministry at the dictation of Germany during the crisis of 1905. The spectre of that chapter of France's foreign history was a fatal error.

Amid the wildest excitement the vote was taken, and when it was announced that the government had been beaten, 312 to 176, Clemenceau clapped his hat on his head, pulling it far down over his eyes, and stalked out of the chamber, followed by the other ministers, in token that he intended to resign.

M. Clemenceau went immediately to the Elysee palace and told the story to President Fallieres, who seemed stupefied at the incident which caused the fall of the cabinet, but he accepted the resignation of the premier and his ministers.

There is but one opinion in Paris today—astonishment that another parliamentary warhorse like Clemenceau should have committed political suicide by his awkwardness in recalling the Algerian spectre upon the eve of adjournment when the government was assured of a majority on the naval question.

The fall of the cabinet was so unexpected that the political world is completely at sea as to who will be Clemenceau's successor at the head of the government. President Fallieres will consult with the presidents of the chambers today in accordance with the usual custom.

TUG SENT TO BOTTOM

Steamer Rams Smaller Vessel—Engineer Drowns.

New York, July 21.—The Martha Stevens, a steam freight propeller belonging to the Trenton Transportation company of Trenton, N. J., collided with the tug Confidence of the Southern Pacific Steamship company in upper New York bay and sank almost immediately.

Her crew of eight men, besides the colored cook and her baby, were all rescued excepting Zachariah Logue of Boundbrook, N. J., the second engineer. Logue's companions tried to keep him afloat, but he slipped out of their hold and was drowned.

BADLY USED BY CHAUFFEUR

Chicago, July 21.—Run over and both legs crushed by a speeding automobile, lifted into the car by the chauffeur, who promised a crowd of angry citizens to take his victim to her home, and then abandoned on a lonely roadside was the experience of Hulda Soltwedel, a sixteen-year-old school girl of Hammond.

As a result of her injuries and the subsequent treatment at the hands of the chauffeur the girl's condition is so serious that her physicians say she may die.

STRUNG TO MULBERRY TREE

Kentucky Lynchers Hang Up Negro in Orderly Fashion.

Paducah, Ky., July 21.—Without firing a shot a mob took Albert Lawson, a negro, who shot Sheriff R. M. Compton, from the Paris jail last night and hanged him to a mulberry tree a few yards from the prison.

An attempt was made previously to lynch the negro. He was taken to the courthouse yard where a rope was placed around his neck; but as the negro pleaded county officers appeared and begged the throng to allow the law to take its course. The man was then taken back to jail.

HAD ACROBATIC ABILITY

Ice Wagon Horse "Made Good" When Opportunity Presented Itself.

New York, July 21.—The beautiful white horse which has been jumping through hoops in an open-air circus at Coney Island has been seized by the police and fully identified as an animal which for fifteen years piloted a heavy ice wagon around Brooklyn. Someone stole the horse, which was not known to have any ability as a circus actor and after it had passed through several hands it reached an animal trainer and was quickly developed into a very valuable performer.

OBNOXIOUS TITLES

Applied to Foreigners Objected to by Delegate to Miners' Convention, Denver, July 21.—Condemnation of the American manner of referring to foreigners as "daggers," "roundheads," "butter-nuts," "red-necks" and other obnoxious titles occupied considerable time in the convention of the Western Federation of Miners.

James Kirwin, a native of Ireland, expressed his sentiments thus: "I consider I am a better citizen than a large portion of the native-born Americans, for I came in with clothes on my back and my fare paid."

Orange, Va., Swept by Flames.

Orange, Va., July 21.—Fire that swept the business district here caused $75,000 damage, only partially covered by insurance.

HUDSON TERMINAL, NEW YORK;
W. G. M'ADOO, WHO EVOLVED IT

With the opening of the downtown Hudson and Manhattan railway, New York city, a new epoch in the progress of the metropolis comes at a stride. Trains run from the New Jersey side of the Hudson river to the new terminal at Cortlandt and Church streets in three minutes. The advantage which this means of entering the city gives the Pennsylvania railroad and other lines is obvious. It is estimated that 100,000,000 passengers will pass through the tubes annually. The accompanying illustration contains a portrait of William G. M'Adoo, who solved this

NEW COAL ROAD FOR SOMERSET.

Land Value Will Increase
Greatly on Account
Of It.

TAPS A 40,000 ACRE FIELD

Pennsylvania Railroad Projects Line From Ashtola, Somerset County, to Connect the Midland—Mainly for Berwind-White Bituminous Tract.

A new railroad branch leading into the coal fields of Somerset county will be undertaken. It is said by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in the near future, as a taper for large coal tracts and a savor of motive power to moving freight east. The road will open up about 40,000 acres owned by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company and this firm has been negotiating with the railroad officials for some time endeavoring to interest them in the proposition.

The proposed route of the new line extends from Ashtola, a town joined to Windber by a belt line already built, down to the Midland road, now being constructed and thus the coal will be carried on through to Hollidaysburg and on to the main line at Petersburg, in Huntingdon county, cutting off entirely the route taking in South Fork and getting the coal to the eastern markets by way of Altoona.

The feature of the new road is the fact that the grade is entirely with the eastward shipments and the cars could be run by gravity from Ashtola to Petersburg. In taking the trains from the Somerset fields at present the heaviest type of engine must be employed and several of them must assist the train to the mountain top at Gallitzin. The new route would do away with all this extra motive power.

Sometime ago the Pennsylvania railroad officials and the officials of the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company went over the proposed route, and at that time the proposed road was fixed on favorably. A corps of engineers later made a survey of the route along Dobb's creek almost to Windber. The route is such that will facilitate the handling of freight over the Middle and Pittsburgh divisions and it will remove any likelihood of the classification yards at Altoona ever being crowded beyond their capacity, since the empties can be returned to the mines by way of South Fork and the coal itself will never touch the main line until it reaches Petersburg.

The assurance of the coming of the new road will cause a rise in value of Somerset county lands, as coal fields hitherto undeveloped will be opened up, and make Somerset one of the greatest coal producing counties in the country.

SOISSON THEATRE TONIGHT.

The Great Irish Drama "Molly Bawn" Will Be Presented.

The Soisson Theatre will have a particularly attractive bill tonight in the famous Irish drama "Molly Bawn." It will be produced in its entirety and the full strength of the cast of the Carroll Comedy Company. On Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee the thrilling western melodrama "Outlaws of the Sierras" will be presented with special scenic effects. Thursday night this week is souvenir night at the Soisson and all ladies and little girls attending the theatre that evening will receive a handsome, useful present absolutely free. "Summer Stock" has been so successful that Manager Carroll is arranging his time to make a still further stay in this city and produce some excellent plays. Next week is promised a good production of "Rip Van Winkle," "The Vampire" and "At Devil's Gap."

"Hunger Strike" Becoming Popular. London, July 20.—The success of several suffragettes in obtaining their release from prison by carrying out a "hunger strike" has caused all of the suffragettes in Holloway jail to adopt this method for securing their freedom. Miss Elsie MacKenzie was discharged from prison in a critical condition, having gone 161 hours without eating food.

Good beer is a Good diet

It is, at the one and same time, a sparkling, delicious thirst-quencher and a highly nutritious food.

It performs every function in the sustenance, cleansing and toning of the human system.

It, alone, will actually sustain life for a long time without any other food or drink.

In conjunction with other foods it aids digestion; adds a piquant relish to the appetite; promotes the digestive juices of the mouth and stomach.

All of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company's several beers are the very personification of purity and nutriment

You need never go wrong in the beer you select—you can always be sure.

And it is just as easy to get the best—the very best—if you ask, by name, for Pittsburgh Brewing Company's Beer. Then, when you get it, see that it bears the Trade Mark—in that lies your surety, safety.

It certainly is worth the experiment—if you have been getting unsatisfactory beer—to phone or drop a postal to your dealer.

WRIGHT DOES FANCY STUNTS.

Aviator Gives Fine Exhibition With His Flying Machine.

STAYS IN THE AIR 80 MINUTES

While Making America's Record Flight the Dayton Inventor Thrills Spectators at Fort Myer, Va., By Some Fancy Work.

Washington, July 21.—Establishing a new record for aviation in America, Orville Wright, in the Wright aeroplane at Fort Myer, made a spectacular flight of 1 hour, 20 minutes and 45 seconds duration. The longest previous flight was of seventy-four minutes made by Mr. Wright at Fort Myer last fall.

During the entire flight the machine was under perfect control, but several times appeared to the spectators to be on the point of diving forward. Several thousand people were given an exhibition which included the most daring feats of aviation yet accomplished, and at its conclusion a mighty cheer went up from the throng in recognition of the splendid achievement. The machine traveled a distance of about seventy miles. It was estimated by Wilbur Wright, and at one time during the flight the height attained between 250 and 350 feet, exceeded the highest point ever reached by a heavier-than-air machine on this continent. The most wonderful part of the flight was the execution of three complete "figure eights" which required careful maneuvering in directing the machine.

A thrill passed through the spectators as the white flyer, apparently belonging to dive to the earth, would regain its equilibrium and speed onward around the oval above the parade grounds. After rounding the course half a hundred times the aviator directed the machine's course around the small double circles of a "figure eight." To the amazement of the crowd the machine described a second eight and then a third one. When he had completed these clever maneuvers the aviator started to make a showing in regard to height. Slowly the aeroplane rose to a higher altitude on each lap until it had soared to a distance of between 250 and 350 feet from the ground. At this altitude the machine flew half a dozen rounds and then gradually descended toward the earth.

In the flight Mr. Wright met every requirement set forth by the government except that of carrying one passenger and making the five-mile straightaway run. Both of these requirements probably could have been met, but it is the intention of the Wright brothers to get their machine in perfect condition before attempting the official flight.

CARTED TO WHITE HOUSE

Tariff Bill Makes Another Call on Taft—What Happened?

Washington, July 21.—The tariff bill was hoisted above the bickering of congressional conferees and transferred bodily from the capitol to the White House. Deadlocked because of the attitude of Representative Payne, who apparently has become obsessed with the growing conviction that he is in the minority, the conferees abandoned the usual session. Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon repaired to the White House post haste to consult with President Taft, literally taking the tariff bill with them.

What happened at the White House between the president and the senate and house leaders is a sealed book. When Messrs. Aldrich and Cannon returned to the capitol they minimized the differences that had aroused bitterness in the conference room and insisted that nothing unusual had occurred.

INDORSE TAFT'S STAND

Leather and Shoe Finders' Association Want Free Raw Materials.

Boston, July 21.—A telegram to President Taft endorsing his position in relation to free raw materials was adopted by unanimous vote at the first business session of the National Leather and Shoe Finders' association at the shoe fair building. The telegram follows:

"The National Leather and Shoe Finders' association, representing twenty-eight states, assembled in convention, desires to record its belief that your statement in regard to certain free raw materials together with the tariff compromise provision will be one of the greatest benefits to the industries affected, and to the 88,000,000 consumers of the United States."

GIVING BEASTS A REST

Mr. Roosevelt Taking Time Enough to Write a Book.

Nanavash, B. E. A., July 21.—Colonel Roosevelt, whose party is hunting on the south shore of Lake Nanavash from the ranch of Captain Richard Attenborough, has done no shooting recently but, instead, has remained at the camp writing a book.

The members of the Roosevelt party are now only shooting rare specimens, their collection having been completed.

DYNAMITE LETS GO.

Seven Workmen Buried Under Pile of Stones and Dirt.

Easton, Pa., July 21.—Seven men employed on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad's cut-off work were killed several miles from Blairtown, N. J.

A large gang of men were at work digging dynamite that failed to explode when it was set off. A large quantity of stone and earth was torn loose and nine men who were at work at the bottom of a deep cut were buried. Two were taken out alive, but their injuries are so serious that they may not recover.

While the rescuers were at work they came across the fragments of a man. From bits of his clothing the shattered remains were identified as those of one of two foreigners who were boring out the delayed blast when it exploded.

The stone and dirt displaced by the explosion lay piled twenty-five feet high in the cut and many of the large rocks that slid down will have to be blasted before they can be removed.

JUMPS INTO SEA.

"I Have Lost My God!" Exclaims Leaping Woman.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 21.—Crying out that she had "lost her God," Mrs. Jennie Broadbent of Philadelphia jumped into the sea from the deck of the yacht Princeton when the vessel was about three miles off shore with a crowd of pleasure seekers aboard, and was rescued by John Winder, a mate of the craft, after a hard struggle.

The woman appeared to be enjoying the sail along with the other passengers when she suddenly cried out, "I have lost my God, look to your own souls" and leaped from the little craft. Winder jumped overboard and swam to the woman. He held her up with difficulty until the yacht came close up and the two were drawn aboard with life lines. The woman was raving when hauled aboard.

SCARES PASSENGERS.

Overjoyed Coal Miner Flourishes Pistol on Train.

Pittsburg, July 21.—Passengers crawled under seats and rushed panic-stricken through doors of a car on the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston railroad when Francisco Truso, a coal miner, forty years old, shortly after boarding the train at Belle Vernon last night flourished a big revolver.

He was overjoyed at being on his way to New York to embark on a vessel sailing this afternoon for Genoa. Italy. He had a ticket to his destination. Truso was in undisputed command of all he surveyed until the train reached Pittsburg. Word had been telephoned ahead and on his arrival he was arrested by Chief W. J. Davis of the railroad company's police.

LIMBURGER COSTLY

Plumber Tears Up House Looking For Seat of Trouble.

Hammond, Ind., July 21.—Tom Mauger, proprietor of the Indiana Harbor Express company, bought a piece of Limburger cheese. Mauger's wife refused to tolerate it in the house and so he fled it to a null outside of his house and the hot weather did the rest. Mauger forgot about the cheese and his wife told him that there was something wrong with the plumbing. He employed a plumber, and in searching through the pipes for defects in sewage the plumber practically wrecked the house. Then Mauger remembered the cheese. And the plumbing and other bills amounted to $150.75.

FEARED BEEFSTAKE

Nick Grano Takes Mixture of Washing Fluid and Carbolic Acid.

Steuvenville, O., July 21.—Flooding over the fact that his wife still cared for John Beefstake, and fear that Beefstake, who still paid his wife attention, would do him harm, led Nick Grano, aged twenty-five years, a brickyard employe at Ironville, to mix washing fluid and carbolic acid and drink it in the presence of his father-in-law.

Grano died before medical assistance arrived. His wife, Mrs. Sophia Grafton, who refused to marry Beefstake after the license was out, because she did not like the name and he would not change it.

BABE SWINGS IN MIDAIR

Then Drops Into Arms of Woman Holding Another Youngster.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 21.—Two stories above a cement pavement, little Violet Albert, aged two years, swung in midair when she fell unharmed into the arms of Mrs. Herman Fry.

She suddenly there, happy and with another baby of her age, for Mrs. Fry had not had time to put down her own child. She just stretched out capable arms and gathered in the little human atom from above.

The baby had peeped too far out of a window, but in some way caught the casing and hung by her tiny hands until she fell.

Harvest Hands Wanted.

Washington, July 21.—A cry for help to harvest the season's bounteous crops comes from the west to officials of the department of commerce and labor. Fifty thousand able-bodied men are wanted, and badly, too, by the farmers of the west, according to Representative Stevens of Minnesota.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO BUILD SEWERS

for paying aggregated $4,000 and the costs $150. The attorneys said they did not make the costs but that the Floodboard placed them. They argued that so far as they knew in legal practice they were correct. The Council could knock them off if they wished. They had no authority to do so. Nothing came out of this argument but a very definite statement concurred in by both attorneys was made that a recent law gave power to collect all bills due for street paving. Councilman Gray questioned whether it was possible to make a law retroactive and collect for paving that had been done years ago. Councilman Higbee had this bit of information ready to give to Council. Solicitor Goldsmith said and would expound it, but he was shut off and what law or precedent it was possible to collect the bills under was not brought to light.

Instead of proceeding with the East Fayette street paving there arose a question over the opening of Tenth, Eleventh and Edna streets. Rather testily President Stillwagon berated the Solicitors for not preparing an ordinance for the opening of these streets. They replied that it was not up to them. They placed the onus on Borough Engineer Hogg and Borough Engineer Hogg placed it on the Council and the Council blamed it on the Solicitors again. Councilman Dunn said that the maps had been submitted at the last meeting of the boards and the streets and the elevation and the houses. The Solicitors said that they knew that but they were not surveyors and wanted a detailed description in such an important matter and that they would furnish an ordinance in five minutes if it was given them. Borough Attorney Goldsmith said that it was too important for him and Mr. Higbee to lay out something that they did not know anything about. Borough Engineer Hogg said that he could and would present a detailed written description of the laying out of the streets, but that he did not care to make the street widths and the grades upon his own responsibility. If the Council would approve his maps and his profiles he would immediately furnish the Borough attorneys with the necessary information to make the ordinance. Mr. Goldsmith said that he did not feel that he should receive all his information from the newspapers and that he thought the Council should pass upon what they wanted and then instruct their attorneys what to do. The storm blew over after Mr. Hogg offered to give the desired information to the attorneys who said they would make an ordinance. The difficulty appears to be that everyone took a look at the maps submitted by Mr. Hogg and no one offered to approve them.

Burgess J. L. Evans was given a premeditated slap in the reading of the minutes last night. He handed out his report at the first of the month to the newspapers, and last night it was read and approved and adopted as published in the "News" recently. A. W. Hart of the Seventh Ward made a strong appeal to have fire protection extended his way. He said that he was 1,000 feet from a fire plug and that some of his neighbors were 2,000 feet away. In case of a fire it meant extermination to the whole neighborhood. Chairman Cypher arose at this point and the Solicitors again came to the limelight. He said that so far as the committee was concerned it did not feel like doing anything for the Seventh Ward so long as the question of receiving the taxes were in doubt. Solicitor E. C. Higbee announced that an injunction would probably be asked Wednesday or Thursday restraining Connellsville township from collecting taxes. He said that Dunbar township had practically agreed not to collect any taxes in that section but that a hearing would probably be necessary to convince Connellsville township that the tax money belonged to the borough. John Martin, chief of the Fire Department, made a brief plea that the salary of the firemen be increased from $50 to $65 per month. Opposition developed to this. Councilman Girard called attention that they were not informed any more and that they did not appear properly. Councilman McCormick argued that they could not do it on $50 per month. McCormick's memory was jogged up on the point that last year when the men were ordered to put on uniforms that he was bitterly opposed to paying them more than $50 per month. The matter was finally referred to the Public Safety Committee for settlement.

Chairman W. H. Thomas being absent John Dean reported for the Finance Committee. He said that the Finance Committee intended to have something to say at the next meeting on the street paving bills and asked that three refunding bonds be paid and also that the interest on $21,000 bonds be paid off as there was ample money in the sinking fund to do so. The amounts were not specified and were passed without comment.

Chairman Edgar Cypher of the Street Committee was empowered to purchase a carload of brick for patching the streets. He said that he could not proceed with the work unless he had the brick as he had used up all the old brick on hand.

The Borough Engineer was instructed to establish a grade on South alley between Carnegie avenue and Prospect street. The work of grading was carefully eliminated from this provision.

Chairman John Dean reported that the police force was the finest he ever saw. The policemen are only short a few maces and several searchlights. He asked to be allowed to purchase these and the request was granted.

Councilman Brannon made a brief report for the Water Committee. "As Councilman John Duggan is not present, and as our supply of water is getting low, I think that an appropriation and arrangements should be made to secure a force pump." This settled the water question, although some very jocular smiles made a few pleasantries.

Councilman Cyrus Stoner wanted to have the present fire ordinance revoked immediately, but he was dissuaded in this, and the suggestion made that he present a new ordinance at the next meeting favored. He was hot foot after having the men get an increase in their salary, but this was not looked upon by favor with the powers that be.

Every body in town that has a bad cellar door, or a bad pavement is to be hunted out and compelled to fix them. The argument came up on a few special places, and before the clerk could note them down they were pouring in from all sides. Councilman Gray wanted them specialized, but Councilman Shuman who stated the argument decided to withdraw his motion as to a specific cellar door that needed repairs and said that the clerk should take them all in. The Street Committee wound up with having a hand full of complaints, and some one was unkind enough to remark that they would always be in the committee's hands.

Shortly after 9 o'clock after President Stillwagon announced that no standing vote was needed on the sewer question he pertinently announced that adjournment was in order and it passed quicker and more harmoniously than anything that went up for a vote during the evening.

Wants, for rent, for sale, etc., cost only one cent a word.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

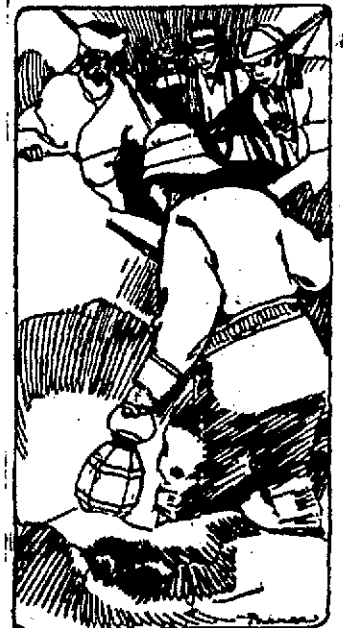

The next day three of the native servants became violently ill, seized by the most appalling convulsions. At first a thrill of horror ran through the chateau. The plague—the plague in reality!

But these fears were quickly dispelled. The sufferers soon began to mend. By nightfall they were fairly well recovered. The mysterious seizure, however, was unexplained. Chase alone divined the cause. Poison! He was sure of it. But who the poisoner?

All previous perils and all that the future seemed to promise were forgotten in the startling discovery that came with the fall of night.

Lady Deppingham and Robert

"You little powder bags did all this."

Browne was missing! They had disappeared as if swallowed by the earth itself! No, no, the wife of Selim, was the last of those in the chateau to see the heirs. They crossed the swift torrent by the narrow bridge at the base of the cliff and stopped below the mouth of the cavern which blew its cool breath out upon the hanging garden. Later on she saw them climb the stanch ladder and stand in the black opening, apparently enjoying the cooling wind that came from the damp bowels of the mountain. Her attention was called elsewhere, and that was the last glimpse she had of the two people about whom centered the struggle for untold riches.

"Chase, they are lost in there!" groaned Deppingham, numb with apprehension. He was trembling like a lute.

"There's just one thing to do," said Chase. "We've got to explore that cavern to the end. They may have lost their bearings and strayed off into one of the lateral passages."

"I can't bear the thought of her wandering about in that horrible place," Deppingham cried as he started resolutely toward the ladder.

"She'll come out of it all right," said Chase, a sudden compassion in his eyes.

Drusilla Browne was standing near by, cold and silent with dread, a set expression in her eyes. Her lips moved slowly, and Deppingham heard the bitter words: "You will find them, Lord Deppingham. You will find them!"

He stopped and passed his hand over his eyes. Then, without a word, he snatched a rifle from the hands of one of the patrol and led the way up the ladder. Chase turned to the white faced princess and said between his teeth:

"If Skaggs and Wyckholme had been in the employ of the devil himself they could not have foreseen the result of their infernal plotting. I am afraid—morally afraid!"

"Take care of him, Hollingsworth," she whispered sternly.

"Goodby, Geneva, my princess," said Chase softly and then was off with Drusilla and Selim. As he passed Drusilla he seized her hand and paused long enough to say:

"It's all right, little woman, take my word for it. If I were you, I'd cry. You'll see things differently through your tears."

The four men, with their lights, vanished from sight a few moments later. Chase grasped Deppingham's arm and held him back, gravely suggesting that Selim should lead the way.

They were to learn the truth almost before they had fairly begun their investigations.

The heirs already were in the hands of their enemies, the islanders! The eager searchers, shouting as they went, had come to what was known as the "cathedral." This was a wide, lofty chamber, hung with dripping stalactites, far below the level at which they began the descent. The floor was almost as flat and even as that of a modern dwelling. Here the cavern branched off in three or four directions, like the tentacles of a monster devilfish, the narrow passages leading no one knew whither in that tomblike mountain.

Selim uttered the first about of surprise and consternation. An instant later they were standing at the edge of a vast hole in the floor—newly made and pregnant with disaster.

A current of air swept up into their faces. The soft, loose earth about the rent in the floor was covered with the prints of naked feet; the bottom of the hole was packed down in places by a multitude of tracks. Chase's bewildered eyes were the first to discover the presence of loose, scattered masonry in the pile below, and the truth dawned upon him sharply. He gave a loud exclamation and then dropped lightly into the shadowy hole.

"It's got it!" he shouted, stooping to peer intently ahead. "You little powder bags did all this. The secret passage runs along here. One of the discharges blew this hole through the roof of the passage. Here are the walls of the passage. By heaven, the way is open to the sea!"

"My God, Chase!" cried Deppingham, staggering toward the opening. "These footprints are—They've murdered her! They've come to here and surprised!"

"Go easy, old man! We need to be cool now. It's all as plain as day to me. Chase and his men were exploring the passage after the discovery of the treasure chests. They came upon this new made hole and then crawled into the cavern. They surprised Browne and—Yes, here are the prints of a woman's shoe—and a man's too. They are gone. God help 'em!"

Signs of a fierce struggle were found near the entrance to the cathedral. Bobby Browne had made a brilliant fight. Blood stains marked the smooth floor and walls, and there was evidence that he had been dragged across the chamber.

Dritt put his hand over his eyes and shuddered. "They're settled this contest, Chase, forever!" he groaned.

CHAPTER XXVII

THE PURSUIT.

DEPPINGHAM sprang to his feet with a fierce oath on his lips. His naively lustreless eyes were gleaming with something more than despair. There was the wild light of unmistakable relief in them. It was as if a horrid doubt had been scaled from the soul of Lady Deppingham's husband.

"We must follow!" shouted his lordship, preparing to lower himself into the jagged opening. "We may be in time!"

"Stop, Deppingham!" cried Chase, leaping to his side. "Don't rush blindly into a trap like that. They've got an hour or more start of us. Nothing will be accomplished by rushing into an ambush. They'd kill us like rats. Rescue is a desperate undertaking. He'll not take the entire responsibility. There will be a council of all the heads. It will be of no advantage to them to kill the heirs unless they are sure that we won't live to tell the tale. They will go slow now that they have the chief obstacles to victory in their hands."

"If they will give her up to me, I will guarantee that Lady Agnes shall re-appear all claim to the estate," announced the harassed husband.

"They won't do that, old man. Promises won't tempt them," protested Chase. "We've got to do what we can to rescue them. I'm with you, gentle man, in the undertaking—first, for humanity's sake; second, because I am your friend; last, because I don't want my clients to lose all chance of winning out in this controversy by acting like confounded asses. It isn't what Sir John expects of me."

In the meantime the anxious poterie in the chateau were waiting eagerly for the return of the searchers. Drusilla made one remark, half unconsciously, no doubt, that rang in the ears of the princess for days. It was the cold, bitter, resigned epitome of the young wife's thoughts:

"Robert has loved her for months."

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, thankful that something had happened to divert attention from their own conspicuous plight, were discussing freely in the center of a group composed of the four Englishmen from the bank.

"It's a plain out and out elopement," said Mrs. Saunders, fanning herself vigorously.

"But, my dear," expostulated her husband, blushing vividly over the first public use of the appellation,

"where the devil could they elope to?"

"I don't know, Tommy, but elopers never take that into consideration. Do they, Mr. Bowles?"

At last the four men appeared in the mouth of the cavern. The watchers below fell into chilled silence when they discovered that the missing ones were not with them. Stupefied with apprehension, they watched the men descend the ladder and cross the bridge.

"They are dead," fell from Drusilla Browne's lips. She gazed for an instant, and then sank to the ground unconscious.

In the conference which followed the return of the searchers it was settled that three of the original party should undertake the further prosecution of the hunt for the two heirs. Lord Deppingham found ready volunteers in Chase and the faithful Selim. They prepared to go out in the hills before the night was an hour older.

Selim convinced Chase that the wily Raula would carry his captives to the mines, where he was in full power.

"You're right, Selim. If I've tried that game we'll beat him at it. Ten to one if he hasn't already chucked them into the sea they're now confined to one of the mills over there."

They were ready to start in a very short time. Selim carried a quantity of food and a small supply of brandy.

Each was heavily armed and prepared for a stiff battle with the abductors.

"We seem constantly to be saying goodby to each other," thus spoke the princess to Chase as he stood at the top of the steps waiting for Selim.

The darkness hid the wain, despairing smile that gave the lie to her sprightly words.

"And I'm always doing the unexpected thing—coming back. This time I may vary the monotony by failing to return."

"I should think you could vary it more pleasantly by not going away," she said. "You will be careful!"

"The danger is here, not out there," he said meaningly.

"You mean me? But, like all danger, I soon shall pass. In a few days I shall say goodby forever and sail away."

"How much better it would be for you if this were the last goodby and I should not come back!"

"For me?"

"Yes. You could marry the prince without having me on your conscience forevermore."

"Mr. Chase?"

"It's easier to forget the dead than the living, they say."

"Don't be too sure of that."

"Ah, there's Selim! Goodby! We'll have good news for you all, I hope, before long. Keep your eyes on Neenah. She and Selim have arranged a set of signals. Don't lie awake all night and don't pray for me," he scoffed, in reckless mood.

The three men stole out through the small gate in the upper end of the park. Selim at once took the lead.

They crept off into the black forest, keeping clear of the mountain path until they were far from the walls.

The starlight filtered down through the leafy canopy above the road, increasing rather than decreasing the density of the shadows through which they sped. None but strong, determined, inspired men could have followed the piece set by the little, sure-footed Selim.

Mile after mile fell behind them with no relaxation of energy or purpose. They were coming to the ridge road, and Selim fell back to explain the need for caution. This was the road, in all likelihood, he explained, that the abductors would have used in their flight from the cavern. Two miles farther south it joined the wide highway that ran from Ararat to the mines.

Selim crept on ahead to reconnoiter. He was back in ten minutes with the information that a party of men had but lately passed along the road toward the south. Their footprints in the soft, untraveled road were fresh. The stub of a cigarette had scarcely burned itself out.

They broke away from the road and took a less exposed course through the forest to their right, keeping well within earshot of the ridge, but moving so carefully that there was slight danger of alarming the party ahead.

At last the sound of voices came to the ears of the pursuers. As they crept closer and closer they became aware of the fact that the party had halted in the roadway at the point where a sharp double through the rocks opened a way down into the valley. Like snakes the pursuers wriggled their way to a point just above the small basin in which the party was congregated.

A great throng of exultation leaped up from their hearts. In plain view, at the side of the road, were the two persons for whom they were searching. "Good luck is with us," whispered Chase unconsciously.

Lady Agnes, disheveled, her dress half stripped from her person, was seated upon a great boulder, staring hopelessly, listlessly, at the crowd of men in the roadway. Beside her stood a tall islander, watching her and at the same time listening eagerly to the dispute that went on between his fellows. She was not bound. Her hands and feet and lips were free.

Bobby Browne was standing near by. His hands were tightly bound behind his back. His face was blood covered, and the upper part of his body was almost bare, evidence of the struggle he had made against overwhelming odds. He was staring at the ground, his head and shoulders drooping in utter dejection.

Three of the treasure chests were standing beside the road, affording seats for as many weary carriers. It was all quite plain to Chase. Raula and his men had chanced upon the two white people during one of their trips to the cave for the purpose of removing the chests.

Raula was arranging the crowd of men in the road.

"It is the only way!" he was shouting angrily. "We cannot put them to death until we are sure that the others have no chance to escape to England. I am a lawyer. I know what it would mean if the story got to the ears of the government. We have them safely in our hands. The others will soon die. Then—then there can be no mistake. They must be taken to the mines and kept there until I have explained everything to the people. Part of us shall conduct them to the lower mill and the rest of us go on to the bank with these chests of gold."

Raula and six of the stoutest men prepared to continue the journey to Ararat, transporting the chests. Five silent, resentful fellows moved over beside the captives and threw themselves down upon the grassy sward.

"We will wait here till day comes," growled one of them defiantly. "Why should we risk our necks going down the pass tonight? It is 1 o'clock. The sun will be here in three hours. Go on!"

"As you like, Abon Dui," said Raula, shrugging his plumed shoulders. "I shall come to the mill at 6 o'clock." Turning to the prisoners, he bowed low and said, with a soft laugh: "Adios, my lady, and you, most noble sir. May your dreams be pleasant ones. Dream that you are wedded and have come into the wealth of Japan, but spare none of your dream to the husband and wife who are lying awake and weeping for the foolish ones who would go searching for the forbidden fruit. Polly is a wild road to travel, and it leads to the graveyard of fools. Adios!"

Lady Agnes bent over and dropped her face into her hands. She was trembling convulsively. Browne did not show the slightest sign that he had heard the galling words.

At a single sharp command the six men picked up the three chests and moved off rapidly down the road, Raula striding ahead with the daring torch.

They were barely out of sight when Deppingham moved as though impelled by driving him into immediate attack upon the guards who were left behind with the unhappy prisoners. Chase laid a restraining hand upon his arm.

"Wait! Plenty of time. Wait an hour. Don't spoil everything. We'll save them sure," he breathed to the other's ear.

The minutes slipped by with excruciating slowness. The wakeful eyes of the three watchers missed nothing that took place in the little grassy niche below them. They could have sprung almost into the center of the group from the position they occupied. Two of the men sat with their backs to the rocks, their rifles across their knees. The others sprawled lazily upon the soft grass. Two torches stuck in the earth threw a weird light over the scene.

Bobby Browne was now lying with his shoulder against a fallen tree trunk, staring with unswerving gaze at the wall across the way. She was looking off into the night, steadfastly refusing to glance in his direction.

Then suddenly Lady Agnes arose to her feet and lifted her hands high toward the black dome of heaven, Sambo-like, and prayed aloud to her God, the sneering islanders looking on in silent derision.

IT IS WONDERFUL.

MANY PEOPLE OF CONNELLSVILLE ARE REPORTING GREAT RESULTS.

Many of the newspapers of Indiana and Ohio during the past few months have published a great deal about the new medicine that is now creating so much talk here in Connellsville. Judging from the reports that are now pouring into Graham & Company's drug store, Root Juice is even more wonderful than is generally supposed. A number of home people that have suffered for years with indigestion, rheumatism, kidney troubles or nervous affections are reporting rapid recovery under the juice treatment. A well-known lady who for social reasons does not wish her name published said: "I was confined to my bed when I commenced to take Root Juice, but after taking a few doses, I was able to get up and am rapidly regaining flesh and strength. I had no appetite when I started with the medicine, and the food I forced down would sour and ferment in my stomach, causing a raw, burning sensation that was almost unbearable, but after taking the great remedy a few days, I am able to eat anything and digest it without a single disagreeable symptom."

The people at Graham & Company's drug store are now busy listening to reports of this nature and explaining the curative value of the great medicine. This scientist has hundreds of testimonials and many of them are from among the very best people of the county. The juice seems to have a wonderful, soothing, healing and tonic action on the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. During the demonstration period it is sold for $1 a bottle, or three bottles for $2.50.

Father and Daughter Maimed.

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soomer, their seven-year-old daughter, Mary, and their two-year-old son, John, were crossing the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad yards near their home at Shire Oaks, when they were run down by a locomotive. The father's right arm was cut off, several ribs were broken and he received internal injuries. Both the daughter's feet were crushed off. The mother was hurled from the tracks and is suffering from the shock. The baby escaped uninjured.

Here's Where You All Can Vote

We ask you to vote on Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice—as legions of people have done. Four people in five have chosen these as the finest of cereal foods. Please see if you agree.

We have been to endless trouble to learn which cereals people like the best.

For months we maintained a lunch room, right in the heart of New York. There we served all sorts of cereals—all at an equal price.

In scores of cities we have had sampling booths, where people could taste and choose. For we make sixteen cereal foods, including all the favorite forms. And we wish to advertise the one which nearly all prefer.

The Majority's Choice

Of the ready-cooked cereals, four people in five have chosen Puffed Wheat or Puffed Rice. Only one-fifth as many take corn flakes and one-eighth as many take breakfast biscuit.

Such is the result of thousands of votes which we have taken in person.

So we know, if you take a vote of your table, about what the result will be.

MARK O. ANTHONY DIRECTING BALLOON BY WIRELESS CURRENT

A new and wonderful combination of electric and aeronautic science has been discovered by Mark O. Anthony, an electrical engineer, who recently operated a small dirigible balloon over Sandy Hook, controlling its movements by wireless instruments on shore. The balloon went more than a mile out to sea, being directed solely and perfectly by wireless electric power. Mr. Anthony has interested several foreign governments in his discovery and soon will go abroad to demonstrate it.

He declares he can operate a full size balloon quite as easily as the small model with which the Sandy Hook test was made. He believes the device will be useful in carrying small lines to wrecked vessels, by which larger lines may be hauled aboard. This work is now done with guns, and their range is so limited that life savers frequently are unable to get a line aboard a stranded vessel which lies far out in the surf.

THE STEEL MARKET.

Independents Continue to Lead in Advancing Quotations.

Steel bars are now selling freely on a basis of $1.30 per 100 pounds, and sales of plates and shapes also command $1.40 per 100 pounds.

The United States Steel Corporation is still quoting steel bars, plates and shapes below the prices asked by the independents, but an advance is likely at any time.

There are some fairly large inquiries for steel rails in the market, and there are evidences of considerable activity in this department, within the next few weeks.

A GOOD REASON.

Connellsville People, Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Connellsville people testify to permanent cures. Mrs. Lawrence Francis, 411, Tenth street, Connellsville, Pa., says: "Both Mr. Francis and myself have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results. I was cured of kidney complaint by his remedy and have not had a sign of the trouble since. Mr. Francis also uses this preparation whenever he has backache or any symptoms of kidney trouble and it never fails to give him prompt relief. We value Doan's Kidney Pills very highly."

SCENE OF SUTTON TRAGEDY, A WITNESS; MOTHER AND SISTER OF THE DEAD OFFICER

Aside from Lieutenant Adams, probably the most important witness at the inquiry at Annapolis into the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton is William I. Owens, a chauffeur, who drove Sutton and his companions from Carvel hall on the night of the tragedy. Owens says Sutton hired him to drive from Carvel hall to the marine camp that night and that when he was leaving he saw three of his brother officers there and asked them to get into the automobile. They did so. One of them was Lieutenant E. S. Adams. Owens says the men seemed very friendly, but that all of a sudden he was told to stop and that Adams jumped out of the car, took off his coat and challenged Sutton to fight. He asserts that he saw Adams Leads at Bat, on Bases and With Sacrifice Hits—Tied With Gilligan For Greatest Number of Runs Scored. The Figures.

The Cokers are in something of a batting slump since the second season began, but several of the players are hitting much better than they did during the first season. The first 10 games finds three men batting over the 300 mark, but there is a vast difference between these three and the balance of the team.

That some of the men are in a slump which will not last is a plausible opinion. Neither Morgan nor Dunn will bat under 200 after they strike their proper stride, while better things can be looked for from Frailey and Gilligan. Ike Francis has played in eight of the 10 games and only missed getting at least one strike in two of the contests. His mark of .222 is better than anything he did the first season, and at the gate he has struck with the willow. It will be a hard matter to keep him out of the 300 mark. The Cokers won from Fairmont yesterday by timely hitting and through the good slab work of Elmer Cannon. Elmer was in fine form and held the Hunters safely at all stages. He allowed only four hits, had good control, and made the Fairmont sticklers look like bushers.

The Cokers bunched their hits in the fourth inning for as many runs, Dutch Myers cleaned up one for the crowd. This and Ike Hagan's double base drive were the only long distance bingles in the contest. The Connellsville boys were there with the pepper in the field, expending two lightning double plays which took all the life out of the home club.
